Virtual Ed Link Wins New York State's CoSer Contract Status

State Funding Available to Schools for VELI's School Safety and Security System

FAIRFIELD, NJ--(Marketwire - February 20, 2008) - Virtual Ed Link Inc. (PINKSHEETS: VRED), the developer and marketer of the leading edge technology platform for VELI's School Safety Management System (SSMS), announced today that it has gained placement in BOCES, the New York state aided procurement program.

BOCES (Board of Cooperative Educational Services) in New York State qualifies vendors in the CoSer (Cooperative Services Agreements) program as a service to the more than 600 school districts in the state which spend over $5 billion annually on goods and services for the school systems. Over 80% of New York schools use BOCES to purchase Information Technology services which represents the VELI category. The acceptance of Virtual Ed Link in the BOCES CoSer contract program is a testament to the reputation VELI has earned for implementing its comprehensive solution on time and on budget.

CEO John Bay stated: "Securing this approval is a significant step for both us and schools concerned about bolstering their security measures. Qualifying schools can now easily channel state funds toward establishing the VELI solution at their respective campuses."

South Colonie is one of the school campuses in which the VELI System is in the final project delivery phase. Michael Marcelle, Superintendent of Schools for South Colonie Central School District in Upstate New York, said: "Our confidence in the VELI staff and solution is unlimited. We've found they deliver what they promise!"

Virtual Ed Link has made significant progress since our inception. The demand for VELI's life-saving product continues to grow at an accelerated rate that we did not anticipate. Virtual Ed Link's focus is to establish our SSMS as the standard for school safety. At this time we feel it is prudent to raise our 2008 revenue forecast from $3 million to $4-6 million.
